OUR STORY

For over a quarter century, E.W. Beck's Restaurant and Pub has been serving fine food to good friends on Main Street in Sykesville. Beck's is named after my father, Ernest William Beck, Jr., granddad, Ernest William, and my great, great grandfather, Ernst Wilhelm of Darmstadt, Hessen, Germany. Granddad Beck drove trucks for Shell Oil by day and bartended in the evenings. He was a generous, easy going man who offered hospitality and companionship to anyone who walked in the door. Granddad Beck was liked by most everyone he met so it made sense when he purchased a local neighborhood tavern in Lansdowne, MD at age 46 and called it Ernie's Tavern. The companionship and camaraderie of his neighborhood tavern is what inspired my brother and I to create a similar "neighborhood tavern" in Sykesville. Our mascot the "BIG E" was created by a close friend to honor my grandfathers' and father's huge influence on me and Becks.

My "Little" Nan showed me how to prepare fine food and its importance in bringing people together. She was 4' 8", Italian, and an amazing cook. Just before opening Becks, I was a student at Towson University and bartended at the Crab Shanty in Ellicott City. Before many of my shifts, I would stop in to see Nan who lived nearby. She would greet me with a hug and "are you hungry?". That question was never answered because Nan was already busy in the kitchen preparing me a meal. I cherish the memories I have of sitting in her kitchen while she cooked. My family and I learned from Nan how much better fine food can be when it is served with two goals: (1) to nourish; and, (2) to bring people together around the table to share meaningful moments with each other.

With the tremendous generosity and help of family, we opened our doors on Main Street on July 27, 1992. It has been our pleasure serving our good friends in Sykesville for the past 25 + years. As always, thank you for being here.
